

WEAKS MILLION-DOLLAR ROBE, BUT GRAND DUCHESS IS HEART-BROKEN

LIFE OF VLADIMIR'S SPOUSE HAS BEEN WRECKED BY THE OUTRAGEOUS BEHAVIOR OF HER SPOUSE AND CHILDREN—HUSBAND A BORE AND UNSCRUPULOUS, SONS DISSIPATED AND DAUGHTER DISGRACED—RUSSIAN NOBLEWOMAN BEMOANS HER FATE AND THAT OF THE EMPIRE.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 18.—The saddest woman in Europe is the Grand Duchess Vladimir of Russia. During the last year she has aged frightfully. She has recently been to Paris to consult eminent French specialists and taking a cure at Contrebois. Her nerves are shattered, and she is practically in retirement.

Her troubles have been caused by the internal unrest in Russia, coming on top of a series of crucial domestic trials. She despises her husband and is never seen in his company except when state reasons make it imperative. A serious disagreement between them arose some time ago over a "borrowing" transaction, in which Vladimir and a well known banker, M. Raskoff-Roshnoff, were concerned. The Russian minister of justice had ordered proceedings to be taken against the banker for shady financial transactions. Vladimir succeeded in inducing the czar to order the minister of justice to leave the banker alone. The grand duchess wrote to the czar, begging him not to agree to her husband's request, and explaining that the banker had offered her husband a bribe of $2,500,000 under the form of a loan, to save him. The czar, however, held by his promise to Vladimir.

Another disgraceful affair occurred in the public room of Cugat's restaurant in St. Petersburg. Vladimir and the grand duchess were dining, when Vladimir saw at a nearby table a French actress whom he knew. Her husband, Vladimir approached the actress, and taking her in his arms, kissed her. The grand duchess was so horrified that she had not the strength to guard herself when the husband of the actress, to avenge the insult offered his wife, approached the grand duchess and kissed her twice. Vladimir tried to kill the Frenchman, but was restrained. The prefect of the St. Petersburg police, who was present and interfered, was forcibly ejected from the dining room by Vladimir's sons, Boris and Cyril.

THE SORROWFUL GRAND DUCHESS VLADIMIR.

The prefect went immediately to the czar and received orders to arrest the grand duke and to expel the French actress and her husband from Russia. Since then the grand duchess has lived apart from Vladimir. The three sons of the grand duchess, Boris, Cyril and Andre, are the most dissolute members of the looser set in the Russian capital. Their most recent escapade has been to organize a club called the Sybarites, all the servants at which are women who wear abbreviated costumes.

Daughter Disgraced.

The grand duchess for a considerable time adored her only daughter, the Grand Duchess Helen, a strangely beautiful girl. But one day Helen disappeared and after a week's search, she was discovered disguised as a housemaid, in suite of dirty rooms, living with a lieutenant of the guards. The Grand Duchess Vladimir has never recovered from the shock of her daughter's depravity. A short time after Helen was married to Prince Nicholas of Greece, who took the young girl because of the large dowry which the czar offered him.

Sympathy for Liberals.

The grand duchess is hostile to the reactionary tendencies of her husband. She sympathizes secretly with the liberals, and believes Russia's day of reckoning is shortly to come. As a sign of mourning both for Russia and for her family trials, the grand duchess' palace at St. Petersburg presents a gloomy picture. No gaiety is ever seen there, and the blinds are seldom raised and the lights seldom lit.

A Truly Ideal Wife. HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER. Vigorous Health is the Great Source of the Power to Inspire and Encourage—All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration, and the greatest helpmate of my life."

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, whites, irregularities or the blues, she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife:

"Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality."—Mrs. Emma Atsley, 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Atsley it will do for every sick and ailing woman. If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

PROSPEROUS TAOS COUNTY

ADVANCING RAPIDLY—ENORMOUS CROPS THIS SEASON AND ALL BUSINESS IS VERY ACTIVE.

Attorney J. R. Lusk, of Taos, is in the city attending the fair. He stopped a day en route in Santa Fe, and the New Mexican gave the following interview:

"Taos county is in better state, financially and otherwise, than it has been for years past, and her people generally are getting into the spirit of improvement, there having been sold more improved machinery to assist and economize in the labor of taking care of the enormous yield of grain and hay produced in the valley this season, than in any one year in the past. The merchants of the county are, as a matter of course, doing a good and healthy business, having to enlarge their business houses in order to accommodate their increasing stocks and business. The professional men seem to be the only class in our county who are men of leisure, but which is a very healthy and commendable condition. If Taos valley was only traversed by a railroad, thereby giving it direct connection with the markets it would soon be second to none to no section of New Mexico."

Base ball with a vengeance is what the fans may look for at Traction park. Although there is likely to be some protests entered against some cases of some of the teams playing in the tournament by managers afraid of not being able to get inside the money, it may be said with positive assurance that every team entered will play and will be given a square deal. Not after this tournament will any team leave Albuquerque claiming sympathy of the umpire toward the some team, whether there is ground for any such charge or not. This has been proverbial almost from the first tournament ever won by an Albuquerque team. "Pake! Robbed!" has been the hue and cry of the defeated teams always, and some times there may have been ample reason for the charge, but not always. The Albuquerque Browns have won many tournaments because they were the best ball players, and they have earned many triumphs because they had the "horseshoe." This must be admitted even by the most prejudicial outsiders. Umpires may have been influenced on one or two occasions by home pride, but this has never been proven.

The tournament which begins today will be presided over by a man whose integrity can not be assailed. His reputation is such that no pitance that any team of the tournament could offer would tempt him in the least, and he has no commitment to guide his decisions but love for true sport.

James J. Jeffries, who will fill this responsible position, must have a superior knowledge of the game, and no doubt his decisions will be beyond question.

The Trinidad team arrived last night and El Paso and Clifton teams came up this morning. Las Vegas is expected tonight.

The Meadow City boys probably laid over at home among familiar millar scenes to rest up after the tiring they received on Saturday and Sunday at the hands of the San-
